About the City

Gaya is a city of historical significance and is one of the major tourist attractions in India. It is sanctified in the Jain, Hindu, and Buddhist religions. Gaya district is mentioned in the great epics, the Ramayana and the Mahabharata. It is the place where Rama, with Sita and Lakshmana, came to offer piṇḍadāna for their father, Dasharatha, and continues to be a major Hindu pilgrimage site for the pind-dan ritual.

Tourism Places :-

- Bodhgaya - A sacred Buddhist pilgrimage site in India where Gautama Buddha is said to have attained enlightenment.
- Vishnupad Temple :- An ancient Hindu temple dedicated to Lord Vishnu in Gaya, Bihar, India, located on the banks of Phalgu river.
- Rajgir :- Rajgir, a city in Bihar, India is famous for its historical and cultural significance, and its importance in Hinduism, Jainism, and Buddhism.

GCE Gaya

Gaya College of Engineering is a government engineering college managed by the Department of Science, Technology and Technical Education of Government of Bihar. It is approved and recognised by AICTE and is affiliated to Bihar Engineering University, Patna. It was inaugurated by the then Chief Minister of Bihar Sri Nitish Kumar on 19 November 2008. It is situated in the land of Enlightenment & Salvation Gaya (Bihar), 82 Kms south of Patna having campus area of 87 acres. The college is positioned along the Patna-Gaya-Dobhi road (NH 83), making it accessible from both Gaya city and Bodh Gaya. The institute is 15 km northeast of Gaya Railway Station. The nearest bus stand, Muffasil Bus Stand, is 12 km away from Gaya College of Engineering (GCE). The commercial international airport is located 20 km southwest of GCE Gaya and takes about 40 minutes to reach by road.

About the Department

The Department of Sciences and Humanities since its inception has been the foremost centre for learning basic principles of various disciplines such as Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry and Communicative English, so that students proceed to rest of their years of study with up to date knowledge and training of basic engineering skills. Engineering is concerned with the application of basic sciences and mathematics for solving real world problems and making it a better place.
